Once again we are preparing for our annual Roundup. If you run Sage Pro ERP, or have an interest in how Customer Relationship Management software will improve your customer responsiveness and your bottom line results should mark the date of Thursday, June 18th, 2009, on your calendar now.

This year we're sponsoring a guest speaker from New York: Ginger Conlon, Editor in Chief of 1to1

News You Can Use...

April, 2009

Welcome to the PSSI eUpdate newsletter, Ted.

Each month we try to include something of interest to all of our readers: let us know if we're succeeding by voting in the one (1) question PSSI Popular Opinion Poll.

This month's question is, Is the "PSSI eUpdate" e-mail newsletter interesting and useful?

Remember that the poll is anonymous; we can't see how any one person responded.

Designing Custom Reports is Easy!

Attention Sage Pro & Sage MAS 90 users:

If you have been afraid to try to design custom reports and charts, pay attention! Stonefield Query was created for people just like you - and me!

Using "Wizards" which step you through the report creation process, you can select the specific data you want to see, then generate the reports, charts, graphs or forms using the selected information.

Attend this informative, educational webinar to see for yourself how easy custom report generation can be:
